Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Results of Operations

The Investor Series units of TD North American Dividend Fund (the "Fund") returned 21.6% for the six-month period ended June 30, 2024 (the "Reporting Period"), versus 7.5% for the Fund's product benchmark, which is comprised of 75% MSCI USA High Dividend Yield Index (Net Dividend, C$) and 25% Dow Jones Canada Select Dividend Total Return Index (C$). Unlike the product benchmark, the Fund's return is quoted after the deduction of fees and expenses. Returns for other series of the Fund may vary, largely due to differences in fees and expenses. Refer to the Past Performance section for returns of various series of the Fund.

Market Update

The resiliency of the U.S. consumer supported economic growth in the world's largest economy over the Reporting Period. Despite tight financial conditions, the U.S. economy expanded at a relatively robust pace compared to other economies around the world. Still, the U.S. economy was not without its challenges, particularly its manufacturing sector activity, which was hindered by weak demand and output. Elevated inflationary pressures persisted after coming down from decades-high levels in 2022 and inflation remained well above the U.S. Federal Reserve Board's ("Fed") 2% target. U.S. consumer strength was driven by a strong labour market. The U.S. economy continued to add jobs, which helped to keep the unemployment rate at historically low levels. While the labour market continued to be a beacon of strength for the U.S. economy, it showed signs of cooling, with job and wage growth easing as the Reporting Period progressed. However, economic conditions remained robust, adding to the Fed's willingness to hold interest rates at current levels for longer. The Fed held the target range of its benchmark interest rate steady at 5.25%-5.50%, citing inflationary pressures, a robust labour market and a strong economy as reasons to delay a potential rate cut until later in 2024.

U.S. equities posted robust gains over the Reporting Period, with 10 of 11 sectors generating positive returns. Performance was driven by mega-capitalization technology companies. Resilient economic conditions and expectations that the Fed might begin lowering interest rates in 2024 had boosted investor optimism. Information technology, communication services and financials were the strongest-performing sectors, while real estate, materials, and consumer discretionary were the weakest-performing sectors.

The information technology sector posted the highest return over the Reporting Period, benefiting from positive investor sentiment on the progress and potential capabilities of artificial intelligence ("AI"). Furthermore, expectations of lower interest rates supported the sizable valuations of the sector. Like the information technology sector, the communication services sector benefited from strong investor optimism and the potential of AI. Mega-capitalization technology stocks helped drive the strong performance of the sector.

The financials sector posted a gain amid expectations of relatively strong profit growth and the resiliency of the U.S. economy, which has avoided a recession despite high borrowing costs and elevated inflationary pressures. Furthermore, higher interest rates for longer were viewed as supportive of banks' profit margins.

Towards the end of the Reporting Period, the Bank of Canada ("BoC") lowered its benchmark overnight interest rate by 0.25% to 4.75%, the first rate cut since 2020. The BoC believed a rate reduction was warranted at this time, with inflationary pressures easing and relatively slow economic conditions. Although Canada's economy has expanded, the pace of growth was modest. A rise in consumer and business spending drove growth in the first quarter of 2024. Conversely, the manufacturing sector contracted over the Reporting Period due to weaker demand, which weighed on Canada's economic health. Canada's inflation rate remained above the BoC's 2% target, however, it eased due to a slowdown in food and energy price growth. Canada's central bank acknowledged inflation remains a risk and suggested future interest rate reductions might be gradual. Canada's labour market, a source of strength for the economy coming out of the pandemic, showed signs of cooling. While the economy added jobs, it did not keep up with the pace of population growth, which pushed the unemployment rate higher.

The Canadian equity market rose over the Reporting Period, with six of 11 sectors posting positive returns. Canadian equities benefited from the BoC beginning to lower interest rates, as well as from the relative resiliency of the Canadian and U.S. economies. The materials, energy and consumer staples sectors were the strongest performers, while communication services, real estate and health care were the weakest-performing sectors.

Amid high inflation and economic uncertainty, investors turned to the relative safety of gold, which pushed the materials sector higher over the Reporting Period. Global central banks also stocked up on gold, and gold prices reached new record highs. Within the energy sector, production cuts from the Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries and allies helped drive oil prices higher. Demand remained relatively resilient despite tight financial conditions. The defensive consumer staples sector rose as Canadian consumers largely focused their spending on essentials in response to high inflation and borrowing costs.

Key Contributors/Detractors

The Fund generated a positive return over the Reporting Period and outperformed its product benchmark.

- Security selection within the information technology sector contributed to performance owing to positions in semiconductor giants NVIDIA Corp., Broadcom Inc. and another semiconductor equipment provider, all of which performed better than expected as they benefited from growing interest in generative AI.
- Security selection within the health care sector contributed to performance as the Fund owned two large pharmaceuticals companies that are leaders in diabetes & obesity care, as well as a pharmaceuticals company specializing in treatments for autoimmune disorders, all of which strongly outperformed the sector.
- Stock selection within the industrials sector contributed to performance owing to positions in companies operating in various sub-industries, including power management and electrical solutions, heating, ventilation, and air conditioning solutions, aerospace and defense, environmental services, and business and information systems, all of which strongly outperformed their peers.
- Stock selection within the financials sector contributed to performance owing to positions in an American multinational financial services company, an American provider of personal and commercial insurance, and a multinational alternative asset management firm, all of which were up over 30%.
- The Fund's overweight position in the materials sector detracted from performance as the sector lagged within the product benchmark.

Assets

The F-Series units experienced a significant increase in assets due to investor purchase activity.

Recent Developments

The Portfolio Adviser expects global economic activity to remain relatively modest in 2024, as a result of tight financial conditions, geopolitical tensions, and softer demand from consumers and businesses. Given relatively weak economic conditions and moderating inflation, global central banks are expected to begin lowering interest rates. This could help reignite economic growth over the second half of 2024 and help the global economy avoid a recession.

North American markets ended the Reporting Period on a positive note, with both the S&P 500 Index and S&P/TSX Composite Index breaking new highs. AI remains the dominant theme driving equities, particularly in U.S. stocks that are direct or indirect beneficiaries of data centre-driven investment. Markets reacted positively to successive quarters of earnings that exceeded expectations, with earnings-per-share growth rates at the highest levels since the second quarter of 2022.

Although the Portfolio Adviser maintains a positive outlook on the U.S. economy, there are indications that U.S. growth will be modest this year, including increasing unemployment, weaker-than-expected U.S. manufacturing Purchasing Managers' Index numbers and diminishing retail sales. Despite some economic challenges on the horizon, the U.S. consumer remains resilient in the face of rising prices for goods and services. This strength has persisted even as interest rates hover around the highest levels in over two decades. The timing of the first interest rate reduction from the Fed remains an open question. The Portfolio Adviser expects that any such decision will depend on the next few months of Consumer Price Index and jobs data, and the Fed is likely to hold interest rates steady until it sees a clear trend towards target inflation and weaker job growth.

The Portfolio Adviser also remains cautious on the Canadian economy's outlook. The BoC's benchmark interest rate has been restrictive enough to slow the economy over the past two years and was reduced from 5.00% to 4.75%. This signalled that the policy pivot was underway, which in the Portfolio Adviser's view, should benefit the Canadian economy going forward. Several factors likely prompted the BoC to cut ahead of other G7 nations, including an upward trend in Canadian unemployment, better-than-expected inflation numbers and elevated household debt levels weighing down sentiments and spending.

The Portfolio Adviser strategically added to positions with clear secular drivers, especially stocks within the information technology and industrials sectors that are tied to rising investment in computing infrastructure. The Portfolio Adviser also modestly increased the Fund's exposure to the energy sector as the environment remains favourable for oil & gas enterprises, while the Fund's exposure to health care companies and Canadian banks was reduced. Looking ahead, unanticipated inflation and political uncertainty are key risks that could increase market volatility. The Portfolio Adviser maintains a preference for quality companies that deliver rising income streams to investors.

² Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase (decrease) from operations is based on the weighted average number of units outstanding over the financial periods. These tables are not intended to be a reconciliation of the net assets per unit.

<sup>2</sup> Management Expense Ratio ("MER") is based on total expenses (excluding distributions, commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) net of any waivers or absorptions for the stated period, including the Fund's proportionate share of the MER, if any, of the underlying fund(s) in which the Fund has invested in, and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average NAV during the period. Management Expense Ratio Before Waivers or Absorptions is based on total expenses and excludes the management fees on the portion of the NAV the Fund invests in the underlying funds that are managed by TDAM or its affiliates. There will be no duplication of management fees paid to TDAM or its affiliates. Any waivers or absorptions may be discontinued at any time by TDAM at its discretion without notice.

<sup>3</sup> The trading expense ratio ("TER") represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average NAV during the stated period. Where a Fund invests in units of any underlying fund, the TER presented for the Fund includes the portion of TERs, if available, of the underlying fund(s) attributable to this investment.

<sup>4</sup> The Fund's portfolio turnover rate ("PTR") indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio adviser manages its investments. A PTR of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the stated period. The higher a fund's PTR, the greater the trading costs payable, directly or indirectly, by the fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the fiscal year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a fund.

Management Fees

As manager and trustee of the Fund, TDAM is responsible for the overall business and affairs of the Fund, including activities related to making units of the Fund available to investors, and providing, or arranging for the provision of, investment advisory services and marketing services to the Fund. In consideration for the provision of such services, each series of the Fund pays TDAM a management fee.

Management fees are calculated and accrued on a daily basis for each applicable series based on the net asset value of that series and paid monthly to TDAM.

The simplified prospectus discloses a specified annual management fee rate that TDAM can charge for each series of the Fund. Where TDAM chooses to charge a management fee rate below the specified annual management fee rate, the difference represents a waiver of management fees. TDAM may waive all or a portion of the management fees being charged to the Fund, which may be discontinued at any time by TDAM at its discretion without notice to unitholders.

The annual management fees and a breakdown of the major services rendered for each series, as a percentage of the management fees paid, are as follows:

(expressed as a %)	Annual Mgmt. Fees*	Dealer Compensation	Waived Operating Expenses	Other†
Investor Series	1.70	58.84	0.00	41.16
Advisor Series	1.70	57.32	0.00	42.68
F-Series	0.80	0.00	0.00	100.00
H8 Series	1.70	58.93	0.00	41.07
FT5 Series	0.80	0.00	0.00	100.00
FT8 Series	0.80	0.00	0.00	100.00
T8 Series	1.70	56.85	0.00	43.15
D-Series	0.80	0.00	0.00	100.00

* Includes management fees paid by the Fund and the proportionate management fees, if any, of the underlying fund(s) managed by TDAM held by the Fund. However, no management fees are payable by the Fund that, to a reasonable person, would duplicate a fee payable by the underlying fund(s) for the same services.

Past Performance

The following charts show how the Fund has performed in the past, and can help you understand the risks of investing in the Fund. These returns include the reinvestment of all distributions. They do not include deduction of sales, switch, redemption, or other optional charges (which dealers may charge) or income taxes payable, and these returns would be lower if they did. The Fund's past performance does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future.
