Overview

- Financing the monetization of equity distributions from two fully operational North American fibre networks, 100% owned by the builder/operators, with the possibility of adding a 3rd network in an expanded deal.
- The corporate counterparty for the larger project is a BBB rated leading telecom operator, while the smaller project counterparty is an AA- rated governmental authority.

Value Drivers and Risk Mitigants

- The borrower owns two projects: one receives fixed contractual cash payments with no volume, price, or availability risk while the other receives availability-based payments with no volume or price risk.
- Minimal operational obligations as commitments remain with the service providers (project operators).
- Lender protections with multiple covenants, including a springing Debt Service Reserve Account (DSRA) and lock-up provisions providing credit resilience.
- Refinancing risk is minimized by the availability of contracted cash flows lasting 14 years beyond the maturity of the 5-year loan.

Conclusion

The Strategy seeks to provide investors with a portfolio of income-generating assets across direct lending (middle market corporate credit), real estate debt, infrastructure debt and specialty finance markets without having to navigate multiple strategies or managers. This opportunity comes from one of TDAM's existing relationships within the infrastructure space. The loan monetizes equity distributions of operational fibre networks in North America 100% owned by the builder/operators. TDAM's first investment showcases the depth of our origination channels, across infrastructure and other real asset lending.
