

TD Bank Group – Supplier Code of Conduct

TD's Supplier Code of Conduct describes TD's expectations of how its suppliers conduct business and interact with TD. The code reflects and frames the values and standards that TD expects suppliers and their subcontractors to adhere to when engaged in business with TD – based upon the principles set out in TD's Responsible Procurement Policy. Depending on the nature of the good or service being sourced, TD may have additional requirements which are specified during the procurement process and the ongoing management and monitoring of the relationship.

TD is committed, wherever possible, to source products and services from suppliers who respect human rights, ethics and the environment and have responsible policies and practices. Specifically, we expect our suppliers to operate in a manner that is consistent with these values and that is appropriate and relevant to their respective products, services and industries.

Suppliers are expected to have guidelines, policies and practices that are communicated throughout the organization, upheld by all levels of management, and considered in and applied to their own supply chain activities. These must address the following:

Protection of human rights	Respect for basic human rights, including rights to life and liberty, freedom of thought and expression, and equality. No tolerance for and protections against workplace harassment or abuse, discrimination and violence
Protection of health and safety	A culture of safety and supporting practices, minimizing risk of injury or death, and documented safety procedures (including accident reporting and emergency evacuation)
