

Pat Giles

Vice President, Real Estate Secured Lending

Pat Giles is Vice President, Real Estate Secured Lending at TD. With over 15 years of banking experience, Pat provides mortgage advice and tools to help Canadians make informed decisions when it comes to Home Financing. "Home ownership is the biggest investment that Canadians make in their lifetime, and the process can be overwhelming," says Giles. "At TD, we help make the dream of home ownership a reality, while ensuring that the process is comfortable and convenient."

In addition to providing advice, products and services for Canadians interested in home ownership, Pat and his team have access to research commissioned by TD Canada Trust on current Canadian consumer attitudes and habits relating to a number of home ownership topics, from choosing and buying a first home, to renovating and greening a home, to understanding gender, regional and other demographic preferences.

Pat holds degrees from Western University, including an MBA from the Richard Ivey School of Business. He is an active supporter of the United Way in the city of Mississauga, where he lives with his family. Based in Toronto, Pat is available to take interviews in English pertaining to housing, mortgages and home equity lines of credit.
