A Message from Ed Clark

We sat down with Ed Clark, President and CEO of TD Bank Financial Group, to ask him about TD's corporate responsibility (CR) strategy, its CR achievements in 2009 and its priorities for 2010.

WHAT IS TD'S CORPORATE RESPONSIBILITY STRATEGY AND HOW DOES IT RELATE TO THE BANK'S LONG-TERM ORGANIZATIONAL STRATEGY AND SUCCESS?

Our mission to be the better bank means we're never satisfied. No matter how good we are, we can always be better. And the only way we can be the better bank is to take corporate responsibility as seriously as every other part of our business strategy. So for us it has always been both a corporate commitment and a part of everyone's job. Our Guiding Principles and Leadership Profile make it clear that we expect our leaders and employees to do the right thing and think about the impact of their decisions and actions.

Corporate responsibility is part of everything we do – from how we serve our customers to how we manage our operations and our support of community issues and causes.

WHAT WERE THE BROAD TRENDS IN 2009 THAT AFFECTED TD AND INFLUENCED YOUR CORPORATE RESPONSIBILITY PRIORITIES?

Two trends stand out for me. One was the economic downturn that made 2009 a stressful time for many. Through no fault of their own, some of our good customers struggled to protect their businesses, their homes or their retirement plans. Our surveys told us they were worried about paying debts or supporting their families. But they were uncomfortable raising the subject. So we invited them to come in and talk to us before things got worse. By year-end, more than 24,000 customers with financial challenges had found relief through our new program, TD Helps. We made sure our employees had access to the same program.

It's been a tough year, too, for not-for-profit agencies, who struggle to deliver vital services even when times are good. We built new community partnerships and increased our donations, investing over $50 million in important community programs. This isn't about another big donation from another big bank – the real story is the help given to one child, one family, one community at a time through all the programs we support. That's what making a difference together is all about.

The second trend was the continued aftershock of the global financial industry crisis of 2008. People wanted straight answers about risk management and executive compensation practices. TD is fortunate to be a successful player in the Canadian banking system, one of the strongest in the world. That's thanks in part to astute government actions and prudent regulation. We were able to reassure our customers and investors in both Canada and the United States. We also listened when growing numbers of investors said they wanted a "say on executive pay." At our annual meeting in 2010 shareholders will be able to vote in an advisory capacity on our executive compensation practices.

WHAT WERE THE KEY ACHIEVEMENTS, EVENTS AND DISAPPOINTMENTS THAT TD EXPERIENCED IN 2009?

First, when many banks around the world were retrenching, we continued to deliver record business results and to stand by our customers, employees and communities.

We integrated our two U.S. banks in 18 months, bringing together approximately 23,000 employees and over 1,000 branches from Maine to Florida. While there was a problem with overnight batch processing as we completed the integration, it was quickly resolved and TD Bank, America's Most Convenient Bank, emerged as a stronger organization, with customer loyalty intact. I'm immensely proud of our U.S. employees who tirelessly delivered the legendary service for which TD stands. Amazingly, in the midst of all this we received the Highest Rating in Customer Satisfaction by J.D. Power and Associates in both the U.S. Mid-Atlantic region and Canada for the fourth year in a row.

Being the better bank means we can always improve. Two specific corporate responsibility areas come to mind. The first is that with integration activities absorbing our employees' time and capacity for change, we had to put the development of a more integrated North American corporate responsibility approach on the back burner. It will be a priority in 2010.

The second is that, while we are recognized on Best Employer lists, there are some diverse communities where we've had difficulty recruiting employees. In 2009 we got a better understanding of why that was the case. Quite simply, those communities often don't see banking as a career option. So we'll be working even harder in 2010 to raise our profile, particularly within black and Aboriginal communities, in the hope that they will begin to see TD as a great potential employer.

HOW WELL DID TD PERFORM AGAINST ITS CORPORATE RESPONSIBILITY TARGETS?

We believe that our corporate responsibility efforts in 2009 made a meaningful difference and we know that where we set specific targets, we are on track.

For example, we know that our diversity initiatives are having a positive impact. We conducted our 2009 Diversity Inclusiveness Survey to find out if TD employees feel they are included regardless of gender, ethnicity, religion, sexual orientation, abilities or disabilities. And 89% of respondents indicated they felt TD was inclusive, which shows progress since our 2007 survey. As well, the diversity initiatives outlined in this report helped rank TD, once again, as a Best Employer in Canada.

One of our goals is to be an environmental leader among our peers. This involves reducing our operational footprint and building environmental programs across North America. We're well on track for our global operation to become carbon-neutral in 2010. An open-door approach helps us have constructive dialogue with all constituents, including environmental groups, government and the energy sector. Over almost two decades TD Friends of the Environment Foundation has helped thousands of grassroots environmental organizations by funding projects in local communities.

WHAT ARE TD'S MAIN CHALLENGES AND TARGETS FOR 2010 AND ITS GOALS FOR THE COMING THREE TO FIVE YEARS?

One of the key challenges in the short to mid term is that while we're seeing signs that the economy is recovering, the issues our customers and communities faced in 2009 are likely to continue for some time. Last year, we began to show that legendary customer service is about more than standing by customers in good times. It's about being there for them when they face hardships. In 2010 we'll work to find more ways to do that.

Our growth means we're now serving more diverse markets. The challenge is that while there are benefits to taking an integrated approach wherever possible, we don't want to lose sight of what matters to local communities.

In 2009, we built tremendous business momentum despite a very difficult economy. Our goal is to sustain that momentum as we invest for the future. We will build on our commitments to our customers, our employees and the communities we serve as we work to be the better bank.

Ed Clark
President and Chief Executive Officer

Corporate Responsibility Reporting

TD began reporting on our operations according to the Global Reporting Initiative Sustainability Reporting Guidelines (G3) in 2007. We are progressively improving the standard of our reporting. In this year's report, we are including more performance-based information that links our initiatives with our business priorities. See page 28 for our key performance indicators.

We aim to provide balanced reporting of our performance on environmental, social and economic issues. This report has been written using the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) standards of accuracy, completeness, reliability, clarity and materiality.

To ensure the quality, reliability and completeness of this report, more than 200 content providers, managers and executives across the organization reviewed all or relevant sections. In addition, the report was reviewed by the Corporate Governance Committee of TD's Board of Directors. We have not taken the extra step of formal independent assurance.

TD self-declares its corporate disclosure process to GRI Application Level C. The GRI table has been externally assured by the Canadian Business for Social Responsibility, which allows us to submit the report at a C+ level (GRI checked).

Customers

Supporting our customers during financial turbulence

OUR COMMITMENT

Deliver legendary customer experiences in good times and bad.

TD has long been synonymous with legendary service and convenience. It's our strategic advantage. Over the years we have learned that a satisfied customer is likely to stay with us, to expand the use of our products and services and to refer others to TD. We also know that delivering a legendary customer experience drives shareholder value.

We work hard to win and keep our customers' loyalty by being there, where and when they need us; listening to their needs and developing appropriate solutions; protecting their assets and their privacy; giving them adequate product information; and providing products, services and facilities to serve a diverse customer base. And when, despite our best intentions, mistakes happen, we make every effort to recover with flair.

SUPPORT OUR CUSTOMERS IN TOUGH TIMES

In 2009, our customers faced real and significant problems, and we wanted to help. In Canada, we launched TD Helps, a program to provide customers with practical solutions enabling them to keep their homes and manage their non-mortgage debt and to help small-business banking customers with cash flow. By the end of the year, our program made a real difference in the lives of more than 24,000 customers.

RUN A SOUND BANK

Many of our customers in the United States were concerned about bank failure. We talked to our customers about the safety and soundness of TD and backed this up by delivering solid results and opening more branches. We strive to operate with excellence and take only risks that we understand and can manage.

RESPECT FOR PRIVACY

TD has privacy policies and practices in place across our global operations, and we respect all applicable privacy laws in countries where we do business. In 2009, we addressed five complaints (up from two in 2008) as the Office of the Privacy Commissioner of Canada increased efforts to close old files.

INCLUSIVE BANKING

In Canada we offer a number of low-cost banking options for seniors, students and low-income customers. We comply with Canadian government Access to Basic Banking Services regulations by cashing federal government-issued cheques that are $1,500 or less at no charge for non-customers. We open personal accounts regardless of whether a person is unemployed, is or has been bankrupt, or is unable to make an initial deposit, as long as required conditions are met.

“The real test of customer service is how you respond in difficult times.”

Tim Hockey, President and CEO of TD Canada Trust

TD HELPS: PROVIDING FINANCIAL STRESS RELIEF

Maxed out credit cards, a fully used overdraft, and payment delinquency on a Line of Credit all signaled to David Boucher an Edmonton, AB based Financial Adviser that his client was on the verge of full-blown financial distress. After meeting to discuss the situation, David was able to defer loan payments, add a loan extension and re-amortize his mortgage. “The result exceeded my client’s expectations. He and his spouse are now on the way to becoming more financially healthy.”

MEETING DIVERSE NEEDS

Our diverse client base reflects the characteristics of the more than 2,500 communities and business centres in which we operate. We want to be the better bank by being relevant to all of them.

In 2009 we worked hard to address the financial needs of our diverse customer segments with tailored offers and marketing communications.

- Across our operations we are working to deliver services, products and communications in a host of languages. Currently customers can speak to us in French, Mandarin, Cantonese, Punjabi, Portuguese, German, Russian, Greek and Spanish.
- Wealth Management provided financial planning information for customers and clients who are in same-sex relationships.
- TD was named Best Investment Adviser/Firm and Best Bank by readers of Toronto's Xtra.ca, a website for gay and lesbian news.

CUSTOMER CARE

Our goal is to resolve problems on initial contact. Information on our problem resolution process is available on our website www.td.com and in branches.

¹The Ombudsman for Banking Services and Investments (OBSI) changed its criteria for case reporting effective 2009. For this reason, 2007 and 2008 numbers do not provide a true statistical comparison of our performance in handling complaints.

In the U.S., TD Bank strives to resolve 80% of complaints within three days or less. Since August 2009, 77.4% of referred complaints were resolved within that time frame. In Canada, we currently do not track an equivalent measurement.

Imagine my surprise when I got to the airport to purchase a return ticket and had only about $100 in my account. I called TD Bank to see if there was something wrong. She listened to my story before responding, "I'm terribly sorry. There has been a delay today in posting direct deposits to accounts. But I see that you get a direct deposit on the 15th and 30th of every month and I've already been authorized to fix these issues so I'm going to post a $1,000 credit memo to your account. Is that enough for your plane ticket?"

I thought I would fall over. There was no arguing, pleading, begging. I didn't have to ask to talk to a supervisor. The customer service person who spoke with me was intelligent and had been empowered to fix problems.

Focused on Customer Experience

Our performance

We evaluate our performance through our Customer Experience Index (CEI) in Canada and our Customer WOW! Index (CWI) in the U.S. The ratings are compiled from individual customer interviews that measure our customers' likelihood to recommend TD to their family, friends or colleagues. In 2009, we conducted over 600,000 interviews. We use these indices to set targets and drive improvement; the results have an impact on employee compensation, including the CEO's.

To challenge ourselves to provide legendary service even in tough times, our 2009 CEI targets were equal to or greater than the 2008 targets. All of our businesses maintained or improved their performance compared to the previous year.

HELPING CUSTOMERS SAVE

In 2009, we launched a new product in Canada called Simply Save. Each time a customer makes an ABM withdrawal or an Interac Direct Payment transaction, Simply Save transfers a chosen amount (from 50 cents to five dollars) from the customer's chequing account to a designated savings account. Simply Save makes it easier for customers to start building up their savings. Over half a million Canadians signed up in the first nine weeks.

TD INSURANCE REPLACES STOLEN VAN

Charles and Brenda Baird's van was outfitted to accommodate Brenda's wheelchair. The van was Brenda's main form of transportation. So when it was stolen, the Bairds were devastated. They contacted TD Insurance but realized they hadn't insured the van as an accessibility vehicle and as a result wouldn't receive enough money to cover the full cost of a replacement. Working together, TD and ABLE Transport Ltd. replaced the van, complete with new features that allow Brenda to ride in the front seat next to her husband – something she hadn't been able to do before.

ACCESSIBLE BANKING

In addition to our standard offerings, TD provides products, services and facilities for those with disabilities, including the following:

- In Canada, a new web accessibility tool improves the online banking experience for customers who have visual impairments or where English is not their first language.
- Bank documents, such as credit card statements and personal cheques, are available upon request in formats such as large-font and Braille at no additional charge.
- Our internal design standard ensures that all new premises are fully accessible. We're also working to retrofit older facilities. In Canada, we completed 79 retrofit projects at retail branches and investment centres to provide designated barrier-free parking spaces, sidewalks and ramps, automatic door operators and accessible entrance vestibules and night deposit boxes. We also completed renovation projects at 25 sites at a cost of $797,274.
- In the U.S., we completed 89 renovation projects to improve accessibility.

Environment

Securing a leadership role on the environment

We are working to understand both the risks and the opportunities related to environment and energy issues so we can provide better products and services to our customers, manage our business operations effectively and engage our employees.

In April 2008, TD became the first bank in Canada to announce a goal of becoming carbon neutral in its domestic operations in 2010.

OUR COMMITMENTS

In 2009, we began broad implementation of key initiatives to:

- reduce our operational footprint;
- provide green product and service choices for our customers; and
- engage with our communities and environmental stakeholders to raise awareness of environmental issues and inform public policy.

To date, most of our progress has been in Canada. In 2010, we will significantly strengthen programs in our U.S. operations.

REDUCING OUR OPERATIONAL FOOTPRINT

We're tackling management of our operational footprint through:

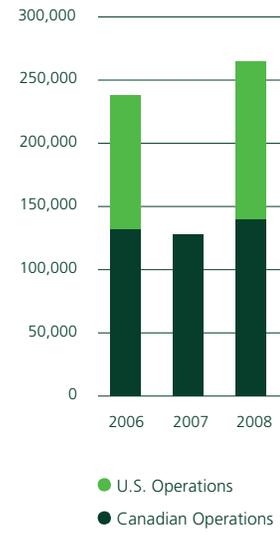

- energy-efficiency initiatives, including green building design and operation;
- using more renewable energy; and
- our environmental procurement program.

As a result of our growth and the acquisition of new corporate and retail real estate, plus the installation of new ABMs, our overall emissions increased slightly in 2008.

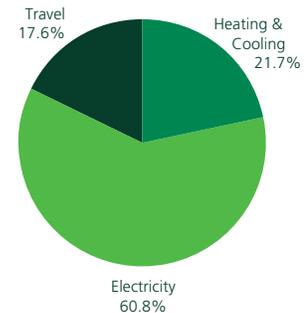

“Good environmental performance is good for business. That’s why we are building it into our corporate strategy, culture and action plans across the bank. We want to be the best-performing of the financial institutions in the area of the environment.”

Karen Clarke-Whistler, Chief Environment Officer, TDBFG

TD’s overall greenhouse gas intensities (tonnes per square foot) decreased due to our focus on operational footprint reduction initiatives.

This branch in Farmingdale, NY, will be certified LEED gold in 2010 as part of our extensive LEED development program.

CARBON REDUCTION INITIATIVES

In 2009, we began large-scale implementation of energy-efficiency projects. These have already saved more than $2.8 million in operating costs within one year.

TD is the largest purchaser of renewable energy in the Canadian financial sector. In 2009, we purchased enough renewable energy to power our 2,600 ABMs in Canada and meet the electricity needs of all of our business operations in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. That's equivalent to removing more than 25,000 tonnes of greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions from our electricity supply.

Working with our social partners, we purchased almost 50,000 tonnes of carbon offsets in 2009 through two groundbreaking initiatives:

- We established a unique partnership with Habitat for Humanity.
- TD is a founding investor in the Greening Canada Fund. The fund is the first of its kind in North America, providing local high-quality, voluntary carbon offsets that will have both commercial and community benefits.

MORE WAYS WE'RE REDUCING OUR OPERATIONAL FOOTPRINT

GREEN BUILDING DESIGN

In 2009, TD established an integrated North American real estate strategy to incorporate green design into our building design and operating standards. We opened another four LEED-certified facilities (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) and are continuing with LEED pilot programs for our data centre, call centres, existing buildings and commercial interiors. We are also developing a LEED platinum prototype for new stores in the U.S.

PAPER REDUCTION

We are committed to eliminating, reducing, reusing and recycling. Although we are already almost 20% below the industry benchmark (10,000 sheets of paper per person per year), we have set a target to reduce paper usage per employee by 5% in each of 2009 and 2010. In 2009 we achieved a 3.8% reduction per person. In 2010, we will set paper reduction targets for our U.S. operations and will launch initiatives to further reduce paper usage, such as electronic document management, streamlining financial agreement documentation and putting marketing material online.

NON-PAPER WASTE

Our performance is stable or improving in all areas. In 2009, we cleared out a backlog of more than 38,000 computers. Of this total only 1,000 could not be reused or recycled.

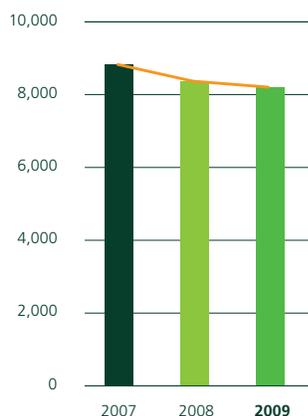

PROCUREMENT

We look for suppliers who share our environmental values and commitments. In 2009, we achieved our targets for recycled content and certified paper – one year ahead of schedule. We also increased our green office product offerings by 100% to more than 1,000 available products.

A $250,000 donation from TD helped the YMCA of Greater Toronto create a green roof on its Metro Central building. The green roof increases the YMCA's energy efficiency. The vegetation helps arrest climate change by reducing stormwater runoff and decreasing radiated heat.

GREEN PRODUCTS AND SERVICES

TD offers a full range of green choices – from paperless banking to green mortgages and insurance to sustainable investments.

- In 2009, TD Asset Management USA Inc. launched the TD Global Sustainability Fund.
- To date, more than 4.3 million Canadian customers have chosen to go paperless, saving 6,000 trees every year.

SUSTAINABLE FINANCE

We consider the environmental risks and benefits in our lending and investing practices.

In 2009, we further developed and strengthened our environmental and social credit risk-management processes in our wholesale and business banking groups. These include company- and sector-specific reviews for existing and emerging environmental and related social issues. The Equator Principles are incorporated in our processes for both project finance and general-corporate-purpose financing.

- TD is a signatory of the global Equator Principles. In 2009 we reviewed one category B pipeline project under this policy.
- In 2009 we performed a review of our borrowers' exposure to climate change risk. The review indicates that our overall exposure to sectors at high risk for greenhouse gas emissions regulations (oil and gas, power generation, mining and smelting, automotive and chemical) represents approximately 5% of our total lending portfolio.
- TD does not lend money for transactions that would involve activities within World Heritage sites or would result in degradation of protected critical natural habitats as designated according to World Conservation Union classification or would involve purchase of timber from illegal logging operations. We do not lend money for transactions that are directly related to the trade in or manufacturing of material for nuclear, chemical or biological weapons or for landmines or cluster bombs.

LOW-INCOME FAMILIES TO BENEFIT FROM GREEN HOUSING

Habitat for Humanity builds an affordable new home every 10 minutes for low-income families. In 2009, TD announced that it would invest $750,000 over three years to help Habitat Canada build energy-efficient housing. The program upgrades heating systems, insulation and windows. It will make Habitat houses among the most energy-efficient in Canada.

ENGAGING WITH OUR ENVIRONMENTAL STAKEHOLDERS

TD is an active contributor to environmental thought leadership, research and public policy. We have an open-door policy of engaging with environmental constituents. In 2009 our business leaders participated in a broad range of multi-stakeholder forums and research initiatives.

Examples include:

- Mike Pedersen, TD's Group Head of Corporate Operations, co-chaired the Greening Greater Toronto Task Force. Its aim is to make the Greater Toronto Area the greenest city region in North America.
- TD Economics sponsored the third report in a series on the impact of carbon regulation.
- Our Chief Environment Officer, Karen Clarke-Whistler, participated in a number of forums aimed at developing better practical guidance on issues relating to free, prior and informed consent.

Investing in Our Employees

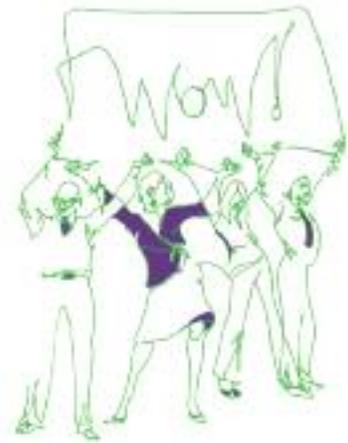

Developing our employees and improving the employee experience

OUR COMMITMENT

We work hard to make TD an inclusive organization where all employees have opportunities to grow personally and professionally and where their views are heard and respected.

We recognize that there is a strong link between providing development opportunities for employees and their level of engagement and retention.

Our employee strategy remained unchanged. We invested in compensation and employee programs and continued to hire new employees.

“Even in an uncertain economy, we have maintained our focus on the employee experience to ensure we continue to retain and attract great people!”

Peter McAdam, Vice President, Employee Experience

COMPENSATION AND BENEFITS

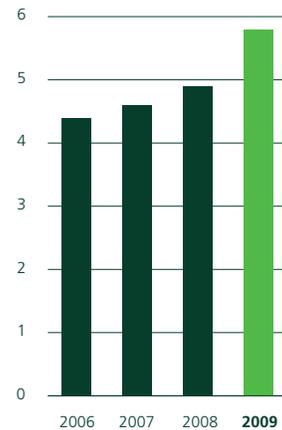

We foster a performance culture where there is a clear link between pay and performance.

In 2009, our investment in employee compensation and benefits was nearly $6 billion. The increase from 2008 figures was partly due to the acquisition of Commerce Bancorp in 2008.

We offer employees the same confidential financial advice and support as our customers. In 2009, we assisted approximately 230 Canadian employees through our TD Helps program.

INCREASED EMPLOYEE INVESTMENT

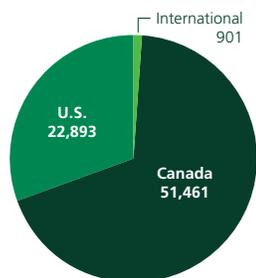

(billions of dollars)

In 2009, TD introduced a new pension plan, designed to be the best fully bank-paid pension plan in the industry in Canada for employees earning $47,200 or less.

2009 GLOBAL WORKFORCE

Total 75,255

Employee numbers fluctuate, but as of October 31, 2009, TD employed 75,225 people across Canada, 14 U.S. states and business locations in Europe, Mexico and Asia Pacific.

TD Ameritrade employees visit a call centre in Mount Laurel, NJ, to assist after the integration of TD Bank, America’s Most Convenient Bank.

BUILDING TALENT FOR FUTURE GROWTH

At TD, we believe that developing our employees is essential to our growth as an extraordinary place to work. We are committed to a promote-from-within philosophy and, in Canada, have filled 90% of our job opportunities internally. We enable employees to take control of their careers, which helps us to identify and develop talent for the future. We have a transparent process for posting internal jobs where roles up to and including vice president are open to qualified applicants from across the organization.

In 2010, employees will be able to create an online personal profile, showcasing their personal aspirations and development goals, background and capabilities. The new system will facilitate increased opportunity for career progression within TD.

RECRUITMENT INITIATIVES

- Through a new National Mentoring Initiative with ALLIES, a joint program of the Maytree Foundation and the J.W. McConnell Family Foundation, our goal is to establish mentoring as a successful labour-market strategy.
- Career Edge associate programs allow new employees to develop in one or multiple business lines before taking a permanent role. In the U.S., TD Bank will launch an MBA rotational and an undergraduate analyst program in 2010.

LEARNING AND EMPLOYEE DEVELOPMENT

We recognize that there is a strong link between providing development opportunities for employees and their level of engagement and retention.

- 15,000 U.S. employees attended training courses at TD University during the integration of TD Bank.
- Over 21,000 employees completed the highly interactive Robbery Prevention and Awareness training program and are better prepared to face a robbery situation.
- We offer tuition assistance for full-time and part-time employees who upgrade their knowledge by taking courses at eligible institutions.

In 2009 we invested $67.7 million in learning programs across North America

*To provide a more representative year-to-year comparison, this amount reflects regular training programs and does not include the substantial investment we made on integration training in the U.S. If we were to include the value of integration training, the figure would considerably exceed the 2008 level.

We continue to acquire and develop a strong, diverse talent pool that will contribute to TD's North American growth strategy

“My first experience at TD was as a Career Edge intern at TD Asset Management. It allowed me to build both my financial knowledge and good working relationships and paved the way for subsequent roles. It was a meaningful and worthwhile experience that I would recommend to university grads who are on the prowl for a job.”

Jonathon Borland, TD employee and former Career Edge intern

The Women in Leadership (WIL) network is an internal initiative that comprises 12 chapters representing over 2,000 women across Canada and the U.S. These chapters work on creating networking opportunities for women. Formal networking events help women at TD strengthen their networks and meet with senior bank leaders. In 2009 more than 1,000 women participated in networking events.

BUILD FOR THE FUTURE LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

One of our key programs in support of TD's growth strategy is Build for the Future. The program equips executives to develop the next generation of TD leaders and establish a development culture.

Since 2008, over 400 executives have completed the program.

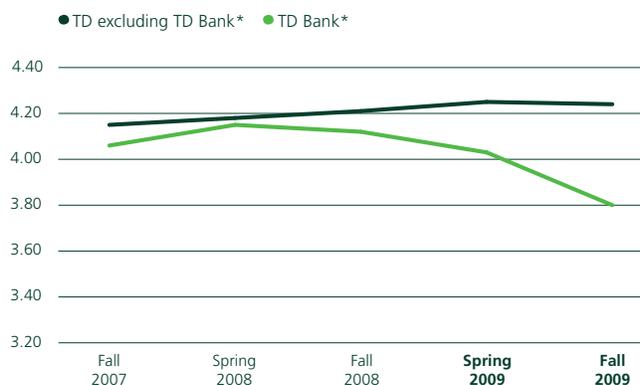

“Excellent course. I am going back energized, committed to developing people more than ever. Will absolutely spread the knowledge to people around and below me. Very insightful.”

Course participant

TD EMPLOYEE ENGAGEMENT INDEX (EEI)

* TD Bank includes Banknorth legacy employees in fall 2007 and spring 2008.

2009 EMPLOYEE TURNOVER RATE (%)

*Note: U.S. figures for voluntary turnover includes retirees.

OUR PERFORMANCE

We track employee engagement through TD Pulse, a company-wide confidential internal survey conducted twice a year. On average, 85% of our global workforce participates in these surveys.

KEY RESULTS

- The overall employee engagement score was 4.11 in fall 2009, down from 4.18 in fall 2008, primarily a result of U.S. integration activities.
- Excluding TD Bank, employee engagement was 4.24 in fall 2009 vs. 4.21 in fall 2008.

RETENTION

During 2009, our employee numbers remained consistent. In Canada, we retained approximately nine out of 10 employees, slightly above the industry standard.

In the U.S. we retained approximately seven out of 10 employees during 2009. The U.S. banking industry typically has a higher turnover than in Canada. Despite all the integration activity in 2009, we're pleased that the voluntary turnover for TD Bank (17.8%) was lower than the U.S. industry benchmark of 18.9%.

AWARDS

- One of Hewitt Associates' 50 Best Employers in Canada for the second year in a row
- For the third consecutive year, one of Maclean's magazine's Top 100 Employers in Canada
- TD Waterhouse U.K. is acknowledged as "One to Watch" in The Sunday Times "Best Places to Work in the U.K." for the second year running

2009 CHALLENGES

- The experience of integration in TD Bank was stressful and demanding for our employees in the U.S. This was the primary cause of the overall decline in employee engagement results across TD. We are working hard to improve the employee experience in the U.S. and to continue on our journey to be globally recognized as a best employer.
- Given the age and service mix of our executive population, a number of individuals in senior roles in the organization will be eligible to retire over the next five years.

RESPONSES

- Extraordinary efforts were made to support employees through the integration experience. For example, managers and senior leaders stepped in to help serve customers and handle complaints in our branches and call centres.
- Our Build for the Future program is an effective way to increase leadership capabilities across the organization.

Diversity

Making TD more inclusive for our employees and customers

OUR COMMITMENTS

We aim to be an extraordinary place to work, where it is clear to current and potential employees from all communities that we value diversity and support employee needs.

We also aim to be the better bank and we work hard to make customers feel comfortable doing business.

We promote diversity for all employees and focus on six key areas of focus in Canada and five in the United States, where TD Bank established its Diversity Leadership Team (DLT) in 2008. Senior executives of the bank lead the key initiatives.

AREA OF FOCUS	GOAL
Women in Leadership	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Increase the representation of women at pre-executive and executive levels by providing strong leadership opportunities.
Visible Minorities Leadership	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Increase the representation of visible minorities at the VP+ and middle management level by providing leadership opportunities and enhancing their employee experience.
People With Disabilities	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Implement sustainable, continually improving accessibility programs that provide a positive experience for employees and customers.

Aboriginal Peoples (in Canada)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Provide a comfortable and respectful working and banking environment for the Aboriginal community.
Serving Diverse Communities	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Become the bank of choice for diverse communities by focusing on opportunities that have the greatest impact.

TD DIVERSITY INCLUSIVENESS SURVEY RESULTS

In our 2009 Diversity Inclusiveness Survey, 89% of respondents – 3% more than in 2007 – indicated that they felt TD fosters an inclusive workplace.

DIVERSITY TRAINING FOR MANAGERS

Providing a safe environment for employees to discuss their personal background and perceptions requires a significant investment in on-site workshops and skilled facilitation.

- By the end of 2009, over 90% of all managers in Canada had completed our one-day Embracing Diversity workshop.
- Since 2006, approximately 400 women and 120 members of visible minority groups have participated in an innovative group mentoring program. We paired women at critical stages in their career with senior executives to facilitate discussions about career planning and development.

Employees from a TD Canada Trust branch in Calgary enjoy a barbecue in Bowness Park during Employee Appreciation Week, an annual celebration of our outstanding employees.

OUR PERFORMANCE

Every two years, we conduct a Diversity Inclusiveness Survey in Canada that lets us know if employees feel TD fosters an inclusive workplace. The 2009 survey saw improvement across all areas of focus. Full results of the survey can be found in our online report. We also compare the employee representation of each group at TD to the external labour pool and this comparison is displayed in the graphs below.

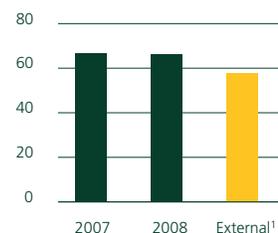

AREAS OF FOCUS:

WOMEN IN LEADERSHIP

Our approach includes identifying and developing leadership candidates from within, providing networking opportunities, increasing flexible work options for all employees and leading by example.

Five of the 17 members of the TD Board of Directors are women. Women make up 33.78% of our vice presidents, senior vice presidents and executive vice presidents.

REPRESENTATION OF WOMEN AT TD (%)

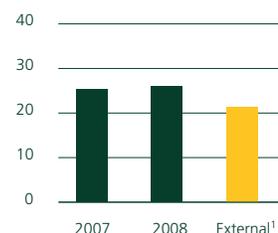

VISIBLE MINORITIES LEADERSHIP

TD is a leading employer of people from visible minority groups. Our efforts have resulted in improved representation of visible minorities at TD.

Visible minorities make up 8.11% of our vice presidents, senior vice presidents and executive vice presidents.

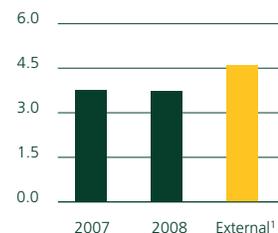

REPRESENTATION OF VISIBLE MINORITIES AT TD (%)

PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES

We continue to strive to build capability and comfort among people managers in hiring and supporting people with disabilities. We have done solid work in this area and continue to reinforce our message at the local departmental level so that it is consistently integrated into our day-to-day business.

REPRESENTATION OF PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES AT TD (%)

LESBIAN, GAY, BISEXUAL, TRANSGENDER AND ALLIES (LGBTQA)

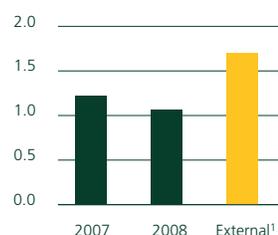

Our Employee Pride Network shapes our LGBTQA strategy and allows employees to share ideas and experiences. With local networks in Toronto, Montreal, London, Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver, Kitchener/Waterloo, Mississauga/Peel/Halton and Ottawa, more than 1,000 employees have joined the network since 2005.

The TD Employment Equity Survey gathers data on the representation of groups within our employee population to meet Canadian federal requirements. Reporting on LGBT employee population statistics is not part of the current legislative requirements, and this is why representation numbers are not shown.

ABORIGINAL PEOPLES

In 2009, we launched our Aboriginal Employee Circle, which includes representation from both Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal employees across TD in Canada, from coast to coast to coast. Membership in the circle grew to more than 50 employees in just a few months.

REPRESENTATION OF ABORIGINAL PEOPLES AT TD (%)

Becoming the Better Bank

Investing in programs that promote, celebrate and recognize diversity in all the communities we serve

The majority of activities we support reflect our own diversity priorities: visible minority groups; women; people with disabilities; the lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and allies (LGBTQA) community; and, in Canada, Aboriginal communities.

In 2009, TD donated over $5 million in Canada to programs and initiatives that support diversity in the community.

- TD is one of the founding members of the new Canadian Board Diversity Council (CBDC), which works to increase the representation of women on boards.
- In the U.S., TD Bank sponsored the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's (NAACP) national convention.
- TD continues to foster our relationships with Mayfest, People in Motion, the Chair Aware Challenge (Muscular Dystrophy Canada) and the No Limits Wheelchair Relay Challenge (Canadian Paraplegic Association of Ontario) and in 2009 sponsored City Mix, a Toronto event that celebrated inclusion for people of all abilities.
- We've taken a leadership role in the LGBTQA community by sponsoring events and programs such as Pride festivities and awareness campaigns in Canada and the U.S. TD is the Premier Sponsor of Toronto's Pride Week and actively participated in the city's winning bid to host World Pride 2014. TD Bank was a bronze sponsor for the Boston Gay Pride Parade in June. A TD WOW! van was present at the parade, and employees from various business lines walked under the TD banner.

- In 2009, TD announced over $1.5 million to support Aboriginal initiatives at Canadian universities.
- In June, TD Economics published a report discussing the potential for economic transformation among Aboriginal peoples and their communities. The report credits an alignment of interests between Aboriginal communities, business and governments as the main driver of improved conditions.

AWARDS

- TD was named one of the Best Employers for New Canadians (Mediacorp)
- The Human Rights Campaign, the largest LGBT civil rights organization in the U.S., named TD Bank among America's Best Places to Work for LGBT employees
- TD was recognized as Best Investment Advisor Firm and Best Bank by in Xtra.ca's Best of Toronto list. Xtra.ca is an online news resource for gays and lesbians

2009 CHALLENGES

- Through employee focus groups we learned that flexibility is important to our employees, particularly our female employees. We are working to make this more achievable at all levels.
- We face a continuing challenge recruiting Aboriginal Peoples into our Canadian workforce, and our representation is still not where we'd like it to be. We need to work on enhancing the profile of banking as a career option within these communities so that TD can attract more Aboriginal employees.
- We continue to strive to build capability and comfort among people managers in hiring and supporting people with disabilities.

RESPONSES

- We are working to provide flexible work options throughout the organization, including telecommuting, flexible time, part-time opportunities, job partnerships and gradual returns from leaves. Although not all positions accommodate every work option, many jobs can be made more flexible, and we are thinking creatively about how, when and where work gets accomplished.
- TD assisted in the development of a website and participated in several recruitment events across Canada to boost awareness among Aboriginal Peoples of banking as a viable career option.
- Our Embracing Diversity workshop helps our people managers learn to value diversity, recognize personal biases and stereotypes, and apply inclusive practices. By the end of 2009 more than 6,000 people had completed the training. This represents over 90% of all managers in Canada.

DIRECTION IN 2010

- Continue to make TD more inclusive for our employees and customers while reflecting the communities we serve.
- Continue to implement our diversity programs in our U.S. operation.
- Increase representation for each area of focus in our employee population.

Community

Maintaining our funding commitments and investing in our communities

OUR COMMITMENTS

We contribute to the well-being of the communities we serve through grants, scholarships, sponsorships, fundraising, volunteering and collaborative relationships with community partners. Our goal is to make a difference together.

Strong communities are critical to a healthy economy and to the welfare and well-being of our employees and customers. Customers want to do business with, and employees want to work for, companies that reflect their social values. Sponsorships and donations build brand recognition and give us a way to let our current and potential customers and employees know what we value.

As TD grows as a North American bank, we are looking to better align our Canadian and U.S. programs by building on the strengths of our respective activities.

OUR PERFORMANCE

Our vision to be the better bank challenges us to exceed the norms of corporate giving to the communities we serve.

- In 2009, we contributed more than $50 million to not-for-profit groups – an increase of more than $3 million over 2008.
- In Canada, TD donated 1.30% of the rolling five-year average of our pre-tax profits. The recommended corporate giving target is set at 1% by Imagine Canada.
- In the U.S., TD Bank donated 1.35% of our pre-tax profits in 2009. The Giving USA Foundation reports the average corporate giving amount as 0.9%.
- Our Canadian Volunteer Grant Program offers a $500 grant to a registered charity organization where employees volunteer more than 40 hours a year. Through this program, TD gave more than $336,000 to organizations in 2009, exceeding our goal of $300,000.

In 2009, TD Securities' 12th annual fundraising event for children's charities in Toronto earned gross proceeds of over $1 million! This event is entirely employee-driven.

Canada

Despite difficult economic times, our community giving increased in 2009

At TD, we recognize the importance of supporting the fabric of community life. It's about more than simply writing a cheque. We ask our employees and customers what matters to them and link our donations to the causes they care about. We also make it easy for employees to roll up their sleeves and get involved.

In 2009, 49% of our community giving was applied to our three areas of focus, which are discussed below. We are moving closer to our target of 50%.

We also commit a minimum of 10% of our giving to support diversity initiatives in the community (13% in 2009).

LITERACY AND EDUCATION

TD is making a significant contribution to literacy and education, opening the door for opportunity and contributing to individual, family and community well-being.

- In 2009, TD gave over $4.8 million dollars to post-secondary education across Canada. These funds support a range of bursaries, scholarships and programs.
- More than 2,000 libraries and over half a million Canadian children participated in the TD Summer Reading Club, a fun and educational experience.
- In partnership with the Canadian National Institute for the Blind (CNIB), we extended the program to children with vision loss by adding a Braille component. The "spy kit" included Braille code deciphering for sighted children.

TD employees are passionate supporters of United Way and other charities, raising over $5.4 million in Canada.

ENVIRONMENT

TD champions environmental preservation and protection because the environment has an impact on local habitats, our quality of life and, ultimately, our economic prosperity.

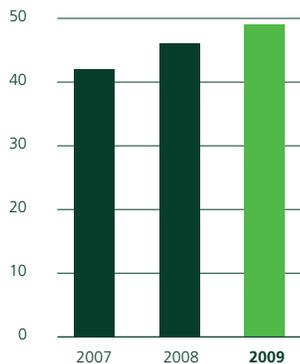

Since its inception in 1990, the TD Friends of the Environment Foundation (TD FEF) has contributed $50.4 million in support of 18,400 grassroots environmental projects.

In 2009, we distributed $4.1 million to 899 community environmental projects through TD FEF and other corporate giving initiatives.

The Farmers on 57th, a working-garden project in Vancouver, is a collaboration between the George Pearson Centre, a residential facility for adults with disabilities, and a host of community groups, including local elementary and post-secondary institutions. Pearson residents worked with local volunteers to transform the property into an integrated working-garden, providing fresh, organic produce to residents and community members. TD FEF contributed $12,000 to the project.

U.S.

Improving the well-being of individuals and communities in need

In 2009, the TD Charitable Foundation awarded 1,518 grants totalling US$13.9 million.

We provided an additional US$5.4 million through community sponsorships and US$700,000 through employee contributions.

We place special emphasis on improving the well-being of low- to moderate-income individuals and communities. In excess of 50% of our U.S. Foundation giving focused on three areas.

AFFORDABLE HOUSING

The economic upheaval resulting from the 2009 recession compounded problems faced by millions of Americans who have difficulty gaining access to safe, affordable housing.

- Since January 1, 2009, TD Bank has invested almost US$140 million in low-income housing tax credits to support 25 housing projects and US$3 million in grants from the TD Charitable Foundation in support of not-for-profit organizations that develop, implement and maintain programs that increase access to affordable housing.
- The TD Charitable Foundation's 2009 Housing for Everyone Grant Competition awarded a total of US$2 million in grants, a US$500,000 increase from 2008. Fifty-six not-for-profits in 12 states received awards for projects that help families stay in their homes or help reduce neighbourhood deterioration caused by foreclosure and abandonment.

IN THE U.S. (U.S. DOLLARS)

EDUCATION AND FINANCIAL LITERACY

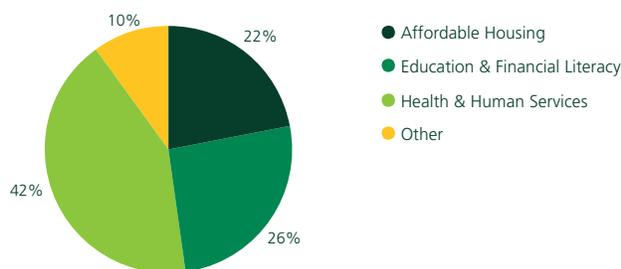

- In 2009 the TD Charitable Foundation donated US$3.6 million to support and sustain educational and financial literacy initiatives and programs affected by the economic downturn.
- In 2009, nearly 900 trained TD Bank instructors volunteered 5,000 hours of classroom and in-store financial literacy instruction to 4,000 classes and 84,000 students through the TD Bank WOW!Zone. The TD Bank WOW!Zone is an online financial education resource for children, parents and educators.
- To launch its 2009 Summer Reading Program, TD Charitable Foundation surprised 100 school libraries, primarily in low- to moderate-income areas from Maine to Florida, with a total of US$500,000 in grants to celebrate National Library Week.

HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

TD Bank partnered with key not-for-profit, public and private organizations to meet an increased demand for basic services, including heat, shelter and food. Working together, we can accomplish more.

- The TD Charitable Foundation awarded 555 grants totalling US$5.8 million to provide basic human services to those in need, including donations totalling more than US$450,000 in just two months (December and January) to food banks from Maine to Florida, providing more than 1.7 million meals to those in need.

FINANCIAL LITERACY

With the support of TD Waterhouse, employees participate in reading, math skills and mentoring programs for children in some of the most deprived areas of the country.

- In 2009 we piloted a new initiative called Culture Kids. This innovative project aims to tackle issues of race and culture by engaging primary school children in fun events that expose them to positive role models.
- TD Securities donated £10,000 to Falconbrook School, in an underprivileged area of London. The funds helped restock the school's library.

ENVIRONMENT

TD Waterhouse Team Challenges

- Team challenges in 2009 included creating vegetable gardens for two primary schools in Leeds and Manchester and regenerating an area in Leeds to encourage wildlife and plants to flourish.
- In 2009 we piloted Eco Kids a Business in the Community–led initiative where companies deliver short, fun-filled educational sessions on climate change to primary school children.

2009 CHALLENGES

- While we have taken some initial steps to align our community relations approach in the U.S. and Canada, we still have more work to do.
- We are interested in the impact of our community giving; however, increased measurement often requires additional resources.
- We are working to determine how we can help local but resource-challenged organizations extend great ideas to more communities.

RESPONSES

- TD Bank adopted the environment as a new area of focus. We are learning from successes on both sides of the border and looking to introduce North American initiatives.
- We are learning to be sensitive to the constraints of the groups we work with and look for ways to measure the impact of our donations without making it too onerous a task or moving resources away from their main mission.
- The National Mentoring Initiative is one example of how we worked with one organization to build upon a successful mentoring model and extend it to other communities in Canada.

DIRECTION IN 2010

- Continue to build greater alignment between our Canadian and U.S. corporate giving programs.
- Develop better metrics to measure the impact of our donations and evaluate our progress.
- Continue to build our presence in black, Aboriginal and LGBTA communities.
- Prepare to extend the volunteer program into the U.S.

Economy

Delivering shareholder value and playing our role to stimulate the economy through continued lending

We contribute to the economy in many ways. Our most direct contribution comes through maintaining a strong business with solid earnings and profits. This allows us to pay our employees and suppliers, contribute taxes and revenues to government, and provide dividends to our shareholders. We are disciplined acquirers. We are highly selective about how we invest our capital.

OUR PERFORMANCE

At a time when many banks were retrenching or retreating, TD maintained a position of strength and has continued to grow. In 2009, lending at TD grew by 13% in both Canada and the U.S.

We provided financing to:

- large, medium and small business clients to start, sustain and grow their businesses;
- customers who helped stimulate the economy by making home and car purchases or doing renovations; and
- good customers who needed to borrow or refinance to get through a difficult patch.

For further details about our business strategy and financial performance, see TD's 2009 Annual Report to Shareholders.

SMALL BUSINESS

TD consistently stands behind small businesses, which are often the lifeblood of their local economy. Our support falls into three broad categories: access to financing, specialized services and advice, and education.

We published two reports for small business owners:

- Forecasting in Uncertain Times
- Getting Through The Credit Crunch in Good Shape

We also launched a series of free webinars on critical topics for small business owners and sponsored various small business events in the community.

ACCESS TO FINANCING

Despite a slowing economy and tough credit market conditions in 2009, we continued to be there for our small business customers and clients, supplying credit and offering diverse and innovative financing products and programs. Here are highlights of our financing initiatives in Canada:

- We continued our participation in the federal government's Canada Small Business Financing Program. Businesses with annual revenue of $5 million or less can apply for loans up to $500,000 to finance up to 75% for equipment and leaseholds and 90% of property purchases.
- We offered more financing opportunities for small business owners looking to own their own property. TD Canada Trust provided financing up to 75% loan-to-value and allowed for a rental component of up to 50%.
- In June 2009, the federal government introduced the Canadian Agricultural Loans Act (CALA) program that gives farmers easier access to credit. This program provides up to $500,000 in financing for land purchases and up to $350,000 for all other financing related to agriculture (including equipment, livestock, repairs, etc.)

For the fourth year in a row, TD Bank, America's Most Convenient Bank, was named number one in J.D. Power and Associates' Small Business Banking Customer Satisfaction Survey.*
